Once BID officers arrived, they noticed a metro bus that was parked on the side street and a fire hydrant that was tipped over. The fire hydrant released all of the pressurized water from the inside causing the streets to overflow with water. LAPD tapped off the scene and interviewed possible witnesses at the crime scene. A suspect was immediately identified by police using surveillance footage from nearby businesses. Once the scene was cleared a BOLO flyer was put out for the suspect. The suspect was eventually apprehended a couple of day later and the victim has since been released from the hospital.

The subject then attempted to break into the business on 215 W 7th street. A secondary LAPD call was placed by Sergeant Perchlak. Responding LAPD officers arrived and spotted the suspect in the act.
